

Join Us in Volunteering to Change the World!

The IAVE Youth conference precedes the 21st IAVE World Volunteer Conference, and aims to foster friendships, synergistic collaboration and strengthen the global outlook of young volunteers. Some 300 youths, leaders, volunteers and experts from different regions of the world will meet to exchange knowledge and experiences on leading volunteering trends among youth.

Held at the Singapore Management University, this three-day meeting offers delegates the opportunity to impact the world through training modules, hands-on service projects, inspiring plenary sessions and creative workshops that are divided into 5 focus workshops:

Leadership Development

This workshop focuses on the development of leadership skills and attitudes, both at a personal and organisational level.

Strategic Planning

This workshop focuses on developing comprehensive and well thought-out volunteering plans and determining the groundwork necessary to bring each plan to fruition.

Project Management

This workshop explores allocating resources to organise projects and managing projects from start to end, from an existing need to a desired result.

Building Networks

This workshop focuses on key skills and techniques in networking that are pivotal to achieving personal and organisational objectives.

Resource Development

The workshop focuses on managing, utilising and maximising organisational resources in a sustainable and effective way.
